THE BASE

To the local community and in the minds of many who had contact with the facility when it was an Air Force Base, this place will always be “the Base.” Now, after successful Privatization in Place, the Base is home to Fortune 100 companies and high tech firms. Fully five of the Top 20 Department of Defense contractors have a presence at the Base.

National facilities magazine TFM called the Port Authority’s use of technology “impressive” and cost effective under the October headline “HNLCPA Shows How Wireless Works.”

“While the HNLCPA is a government entity. . . it operates like a private company.”
