Base TV Unveiled

We promised something new to OnTheBase.com. Today sees the unveiling of Base TV as an online resource for Base personnel located at OnTheBase.com. To the background music of Video Killed the Radio Star, a preview of Base TV outlines the new video clip system. Base TV will feature project previews, VIP interviews, inside information, and coverage of COATC events.

March Through The Years

It was forty years ago this March when CCTV, dubbed the "eyes and ears of NAFS" started its work. An article from the March 1967 edition of On Target highlights the efforts of the five-person television studio which broadcast news to personnel from, originally, a Quonset hut inside Building 4.

Caucus-Building In Full Swing

The Port Authority will lead a delegation of officials on a fly-in to Washington, DC to meet with our congressional delegation. At this writing, meetings are expected with Senator George Voinovich and Congressman Zack Space. Others, including meetings with Congressional legislative assistants, are also planned. The mission is to thank our representatives for their actions on behalf of the COATC as well as to better acquaint our delegation with The Base.
