Webinar Today, Incentives The Topic

Starting at 11 a.m. today, local leaders will gather in the Port Authority Board Room for one of this year's series of webinars (web-based seminars) put on by site selection guru Robert Ady. Ady will sync an online PowerPoint with a voice conference call presented to an international audience with live Q&A to follow. Sponsorship of the webinar series is part of the Port Authority's role in providing leadership for economic development in all of Licking County.

Delegation Set For D.C. Fly-In

An 11-person delegation of Base tenants and local leaders will meet with U.S. Senator Sherrod Brown, Congressman Pat Tiberi, and Congressman Zack Space on April 30 in Washington. The group will also put on a briefing for defense legislative assistants from among the Ohio Delegation and meet with the head of the Air Force Real Property Agency. It's in and out in the same day.

Tobacco Free Campus Date Looms

May 31, 2008 is the first tobacco-free day at the COATC. This is the date set by Port Authority policy for full implementation of a tobacco free policy campus-wide. The employer- and health department-enforceable policy could be the reason that many personnel use to quit, for good. A smoking cessation class is forming that will start May 1. It's not too late to sign up for the free class offered by Licking Memorial Hospital affiliate The Breathing Association.
