Alert! Watch for Black Ice

Watch the temperature graphic on the link below. It charts the readings from a temperature sensor embedded in the pavement. When it drops to 32° or lower, conditions are ripe for "black ice" at the Aerospace Center. Alert pedestrians and drivers are the number one defense against black ice. Be informed. Be safe.

Demolition Project Now Underway

"What are they doing now?" is the question most asked when the fence went up around the former base cafeteria and COM. The question gets answered in a big way later this month when the bulldozers show up. The demolition project got started this week with some interior prep work.

Facebook Page Clears 100th Fan

As part of a continual effort to build a caucus of local, state, and federal supports, the Port Authority maintains a Facebook fan page. Last week, the page accepted its 100th fan. That may not sound like much, but only one other port authority in the nation has more fans than we do.
