Horton Building Progresses

They key cards have been turned over to Goodrich for their move-in onto the first floor of the new Horton Building. In addition, work is underway for the clean room portion of the building.

Focus on Jobs

Though there's no central job seeker location among the dozen Aerospace Center companies, there is one place where job seekers can find information about jobs at the Aerospace Center. The Aerospace Center's Online Message Center includes a page on jobs. Job seekers will find it a one-stop-shop for more than the Aerospace Center too with links to Licking County's local Opportunity Links and the state's popular job seeker system, OhioMeansJobs.com.
