Demolition Project Underway Now

Five out buildings near the water tower are nearing their doom. The wrecking ball (actually a track hoe with a claw) is hard at work on razing the structures ranging from the former equipment storage garage to the old fire station. The demolition is leading up to removal of the water tower mid-Summer and fits with plans to provide pad-ready sites for future redevelopment of the campus.

COATC.com Revamped, Updated

A cleaner, more-focused website awaits visitors to COATC.com, the website marketing available sites and buildings on the Aerospace Center campus. The site was developed in-house to be consistent with other marketing materials of the Port Authority and includes updated video snippets on each South Campus major site.

Facebook Friday 50th Anniversary Fact

The plans for the 1958 new water tower at the base. A photo of Wally Horton cutting the 10th birthday cake for the Port Authority. Articles from the print edition of On Target dating back almost 50 years. These tidbits are just a few of the 50th Anniversary Facts on the Port Authority's Facebook Timeline every Friday.
