

JUNE 22, 2016
VOLUME 14, NUMBER 8

THE ELECTRONIC NEWSLETTER
FOR THE HEATH-NEWARK-
LICKING COUNTY PORT AUTHORITY.

You are receiving this e-mail as an opt-in subscriber to the Port Authority's e-newsletter. Thank you for your subscription. To unsubscribe, e-mail ontarget-request@coatc.com with "unsubscribe" in the subject line.

What the Cicadas Saw. . .

The Port Authority has had a little fun with the Brood V Cicadas returning to Ohio after 17 years. On Facebook, find a series showing what the 2016 cicadas saw that their 1999 parents didn't see around the Aerospace Center campus.

It also begs the question. What will the 2033 cicadas see?

GO TO: Facebook.com/OhioPortAuthority

. . . Out With the Old

The Metrology Building will soon give way to the wrecking ball (a track hoe really). As some steel was reclaimed from the exterior, the fact that windows, including the glass, were left behind when a steel skin was put on in the 1970's was revealed. Note to future builders: Don't do this.

A future development site and 8,600 sq. ft. office building will emerge from this redevelopment project.

GO TO: HNLCPA.com/projects

. . . In With the New work moves to the east entrance.

GO TO: HNLCPA.com/projects

Steel is going up for the new entrance on the west side of the Boeing Building. The new entrance matches the appearance of the facades of the Horton Building built in 2011 and provides safety and security enhancements for the building as well. An August dedication is planned as